

HIV/AIDS - Whose Business is it?
Carol-Ann Senah

The presentation will focus on the social and economic determinants of HIV/AIDS and explore the concept of social responsibility in the response to the epidemic.

BIO: Carol-Ann Senah

Mrs. Senah has 25 years experience in Public Health. She has international, regional and national experience in Sexual and Reproductive Health and HIV; and has lectured on Health Promotion and Health Communication. Mrs. Senah was previously employed at the International Labour Organization Sub-regional Office for the Caribbean, Port of Spain; where she successfully implemented a National HIV/AIDS Workplace Education Programme targeting the private sector. This included the formulation of a National Workplace Policy on HIV/AIDS. At present, she is the Technical Director of the National AIDS Coordinating Committee.